

Pastor Kent's Miller Avenue Church Newsletter for August 2022

Dear Church Family,

Into our third year with the pandemic, and it is exhausting some of us, which is no surprise. Sometimes I think we do not take the impact of what we are going through as seriously as we should. I will admit that life is tough for me right now. And Katie--done with the chem-- and she has been struggling lately, and then a CT scan soon to see if there are any more tumors. Still on the Philpott front, my book on psychic phenomena is concluded, 305 pages, and Katie is just started on editing, about 3 months of this, and then breaking the book down into separate pieces, with which we will get to engage in some real evangelism. I am not going to start on anything else for some time. I am coaching football at Terra Linda High, summer camp is over and we begin hard at it August 8, and then working out where I will coach baseball, either at TL or San Rafael High. Some say this is too much for the "Old Coach," but I say it keeps me going and keeps me young.

Very pleased that we are launching a new ministry, not sure Deborah Creech has come up with a name yet, but it is an outreach to those who have chronic fatigue syndrome, or has MS, or any number of other conditions, including long covid, basically to those who are unable to get out of their door or out of the room in some facility, like is the case with Suzanne Yeager, Vilma's daughter. It will be conducted using Meet Up, same as with the lost relationship ministry, which still goes on as it has since January of 1986, thanks to Mary Keydash and Katie. Please make this a matter of pray. The hard part will be making it known to the broad general public. Thursday, at MarinTv, we finished earlier than usual, and Mary suggested we make some promo videos for all our three programs, and we did make a couple for this new outreach. And at the studio we have a new crew member, Sherry, and Judy is taking classes at MarinTv, so we are good crew wise and will be able to do more work. If anyone reading this would like to consider doing another program of some kind, we can make it happen.

Probably my prime ministry, and this may be a bit shocking, is my phone calling. You recall our Church for Those Without a Church, of CWC for short, still goes on and is every day and lots of time. Not only that but on our television programs I am often asking folks to go to milleravenuechurch.org and look around. They will find CWC, and we present how to become a member. There are so many folks out there who are Christians, but for some reason or another, are not members or attending any actual church. So from time to time they join, and I mail out a membership certificate and some of these send offerings to us through Vanco or just a check in the mail. We aren't doing this to get money, but the ministry is part of the normal Christian life. And we do promos for this work and at the conclusion of many of our programs I invite viewers to go to our site and poke around. It is a busy life.
