

Pastor Kent's Miller Avenue Church Newsletter for September 2022

Dear Church Family,

We are holding steady as a church, there is still more work to be done with the bylaws, and we hope to have a church council meeting the last Sunday of this month of September.

Beginning this first Sunday of September we are going to go to work on Paul's letter to the Church at Rome. It is one of the greatest pieces ever written. It is very complex, and I encourage everyone to get into the book as deeply as possible. Katie will be starting us off with the introduction, taking two weeks due to the complexity of the letter. She has been working on it now for some time. I encourage each one to bring paper and pen with you and write down the crucial points. It is a really deep and profound book and one we all need to understand.

Katie is editing the book on the psychic practices that are shattering people's lives. In time we will be printing copies of individual chapters to be handed out to others, and our first target area will be the Depot, downtown Mill Valley, plus we will be putting copies in the Tiny Library. We are to engage in direct personal evangelism, as in the Jesus People days. I can hardly wait.

We are a tiny church, comparatively speaking, and I thought of this due to the mention of the "Tiny Library" in the previous paragraph. There are those, who on days other than Sunday, will go to our church's website, milleravenuechurch.org, and find their way to watching our Sunday morning services as well as our other television programming. You can be a missionary/evangelist yourself by letting others know of the website and encouraging people to take a look. Computer evangelism you might call it, and it may very well be an incredible outreach for you.

Update on my coaching at Terra Linda High, first off, it is a grind. I know so little about the game, but I am learning day by day. It will be over November 5. We lost our first pre-season game, have one more of these, this week, then ten regular season games. I am learning about the offense and defense lines; it is so complicated. Making friends with the players, about 60 or so in all, so roughly 30 on each team. Also the coaches, 8 others than myself, and I already have two of our them wanting to join me in coaching baseball coming up in January. And I will only coach junior varsity – being head varsity coach I will no longer do. Just one more year with JV I tell Katie.

The television work is continuing, and several others are joining in. Judy is taking classes now; plus, Doug and Mark may learn how to do both interviews and Bible Study programs. This is so this work will continue long after I can no longer do it, and they will be doing actual studio work soon. The real frontier for us is to discover and or develop ways to let the world know of our programming.
